IN MEMORY OF JOHN R. KIRK

We Pause To Honor

To those who fought our battles and helped to win our victory, to those of you who have returned, and to those gold star men who can never again cross the campus of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College the Echo Staff gratefully dedicates the 1946 ECHO.

In Memoriam

To the memory of former students and alumni of whose deaths we have been informed since the publication of the 1945 Echo, and others of whose losses we have not been informed, we dedicate this page of the 1946 Echo.

The unsung heroes and heroines of "Co-edville"—the administrators. The men and the women who see to it that students are thoroughly orientated and know that the program should make them a well rounded student—and then see to it that they are in every club and organization on the campus—these are our administrators.

We wouldn't be without them, even when they assign an entire book for an evening's reading. Those guys and gals who sign the Trial Program Card and thereby get us out of trouble once every three months—into another kind—deserve a lot of credit, too. The smart ones, though, are those who preach freedom of thought and then skillfully convert all to their way of thinking.

Yes, we'll admit that being on the administering end of "Co-edville" isn't easy. So we proudly present this pictorial review of the efforts of the faculty, heads of divisions, Board of Regents, deans, the President, (who's responsible, by the way, for our progress being what it is) and all others who made up the administrative force of our college.

Administration

"Ten, Two, and Four - - - Coffee"

Introducing Our

Dr. Ryle's interest in and loyalty to the Northeast Missouri State Teachers college began long ago when he first enrolled as a student here. Stepping from the role of student to faculty member, and from there to president in 1937, he has contributed his untiring efforts to maintain the high standards of the institution.

Upholding the traditions handed down to him by his predecessors, our president has done much to maintain the initial concepts which were incorporated into this college at its founding.

An attractive campus, dotted by beautiful and useful buildings, sprinkled liberally with earnest, hard-working, clear-thinking students, working with a cooperative, understanding, and well-educated faculty to secure the maximum in teacher training for the state of Missouri has been one of the chief objectives of this seventh president.

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents is the highest administrative unit of the Teachers College. It is composed of six members from various parts of the district, and the Missouri State Superintendent of schools. Every other administrator receives his power through authority of the board.

Rejection or approval of ideas and policies of the College are handled by these men at their quarterly meetings. They employ teachers, receive bids on work on the campus and buildings, and sign contracts.

The members of the board are: W. A. Cable, Hannibal; Roy Quinn, Moberly; Roy Scantlin, Jefferson City; Herbert Sears, La Plata; Charles Shelton, Macon; E. E. Swain, Kirksville; and Roland Zeigel, Kirksville.

DEAN OF WOMEN

For the past twenty-one years Mrs. S. H. Ellison has served as dean of women of the Teachers College. During these twenty-one years she has aided countless students in social and personal problems.

As dean of women she is the charming hostess at all Teachers College functions, being director of the social calendar. Other duties include directing the extensive freshman orientation program, supervising the housing facilities for students, inspecting rooming houses, and enforcing regulations. She is also sponsor of the Pan-Hellenic Council. The work of the Dean of Women is correlated with other activities of the Division of Personnel Service.

DEAN OF FACULTY

One of the main balance wheels in our school machine is Dr. L. A. Eubank. Dean Eubank is the man who arranges for assembly speakers, keeps track of the students permanent records, helps arrange courses for coming quarters, answers the questions concerning the granting of credits, gives information to employers about students, and is head of the Division of Education.

HEADS OF DIVISIONS

Dr. C. H. Allen is head of the Division of Personnel Service. This is the department of the college which aids the students in making, social, educational, and vocational adjustments. Through the Bureau of Guidance the division deals with these personal problems and relationships of the students.

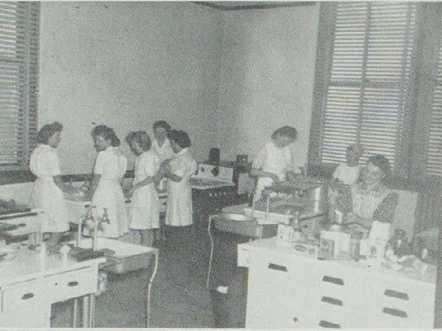

Prof. J. T. Angus heads the division of Extension Service. This division deals with public relations. It includes the Bureau of Field Service, Bureau of Correspondence and Extension Teaching, Bureau of Placements, and the Bureau of Alumni Service.

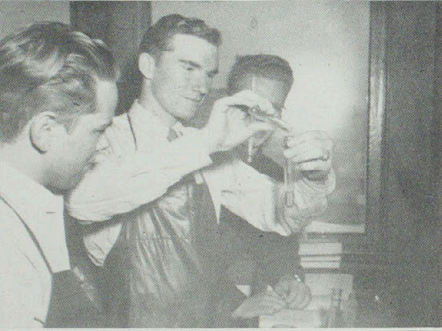

Prof. Bailey Wright is head of the Division of Business Service of the Teachers College. This division is responsible for administering funds of the college. It sees to the maintenance of the college, handles all disbursements of the school, and administers the Student Memorial Loan Fund.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

We close a year so successful that our achievements measured up to our plans. Cooperation within the council of members of both parties gave us open houses each week, dances each quarter, school shows, class teas, an $850.00 carnival, a better Echo, and some new equipment for student use. (P.S.—We'll gladly turn in our laurels for a little rest).

Steadily increasing enrollments during the year necessitated an increasing amount of student government, a larger demand for student planned, directed, and controlled activities. The council worked to meet these needs and received good support from all campus organizations.

We're proud of the fact that a year passed without a stuffed ballot box, or a queen fight, but we point with pride to the formation of a pep squad called K-Ettes, our swell dances, and new sponsor—Dr. C. H. Allen.

We're equally sorry that: we had to lose J. W. Heyd as sponsor and that there was a shortage of time and finance to do more for the student body.

OPHELIA PARRISH

As the proving grounds for prospective teachers, this integral part of our college system of teacher training plays an important role on the campus.

All Kirksville junior high school students are enrolled in this practice teaching center for high school majors. Here the student-teacher receives the benefit of careful training under the supervision of Prof. Felix Rothschild, director of this school. Competent full-time instructors in this institution give much of their time to helping the practice teachers of the college become grounded in the fundamentals of good school management.

This is one of the two large demonstration schools maintained by the college for the training of teachers.

GREENWOOD

After making daily raids on the intellects of children from grades one to six in the Greenwood Demonstration School for as much as one quarter's work, sixty-hour students and elementary majors are able to sift the theories of pupil training and school management, happily watch them sift away in the cold blast of realism and purpose never again to depart from that age-old tradition "spare the rod and spoil the child."

Impractical air castles are readily traded for the fundamental sod huts of practicality, hard work, and long hours.

Dr. Almon Vedder is the new director of this arm of the Teachers College training department.

Messrs. Bates and Attebury interview a veteran

The Veteran's Administration Guidance Center is in direct charge of vocational rehabilitation and education of veterans on the campus.

The function of the center involves advisement and setting up of objectives for rehabilitation.

Mr. Hugh L. Bates, chief vocational adviser, and Mr. Baker Attebury, training officer, are provided by the national government.

College personnel assisting in the Veteran's work includes Dr. C. H. Allen, vocational appraiser; Mrs. C. H. Allen, psychometrist; and William Minor, assistant appraiser.

This section separates the sheepskins from the juniors, sophs, and frosh for the benefit of posterity as well as the reader.

School'll soon be over now and the seniors carry beneath their dignity an ill-concealed desire to return, the juniors an envious glance at the caps and gowns, the sophs the hopeful of one who's been here for twenty-four months, and the frosh, well, they appear quite stunned by all they've seen, heard, done and been exposed to this first year.

Should we eavesdrop a little: "What do you do with students like that? Oh, just assign another book to read, they'll get the benefit of at least a couple chapters—maybe. Are you sure you've been taught to take scholarly notes? Don't beg me, or I'll tell the truth. Class, it doesn't seem possible that you can have gone through three years of college and accomplished so little. Memorize the next hundred lines for tomorrow—and be sure to have that term paper done Monday. That's the bell, you may go when ready. (What makes them linger so?) Have a good vacation and we'll be looking for you next fall. You can make up that incomplete then."

Waitin' for the bus to come in
 The Thinker
 Skirt swirls, Thurman twirls
 Is everybody happy?
 I'm glad to know you . . . Hubba,
 Two, Three, Four, company halt.

Sonorous sounds slipping secretly out of serious seances supply succulent shout scandals 'scribed below:

Let's make 'em wear a hundred pieces of clothes just to bring our average rate per member up to where it ought to be. Better have photographer on hand for the unveiling.

We're broke again. Do you reckon we can get away with that old gag of having the pledges chase men for pennies? What d'ya say we give it another whirl. Pennies are pennies.

Did you hear she got rushed by all four "tooth and claw" gangs and didn't pledge? Just can't understand some gals. You'd think she'd have taken our bid anyhow.

Be sure to use paper pie plates, metal ones will reflect.

Where do you think we can round up enough men for a rush dance? Do we have to invite that frat? Let's use Independents.

Is that quartette ready for our Star and Garter act yet?

This looks like the best year we've had in the last four rush seasons. Sorta long on short girls, though.

The meeting's adjourned until 7:00 p.m. next Tuesday. Oh, wait a minute, I can't meet then; the band's playing for the game. Well anyhow, the meeting's adjourned.

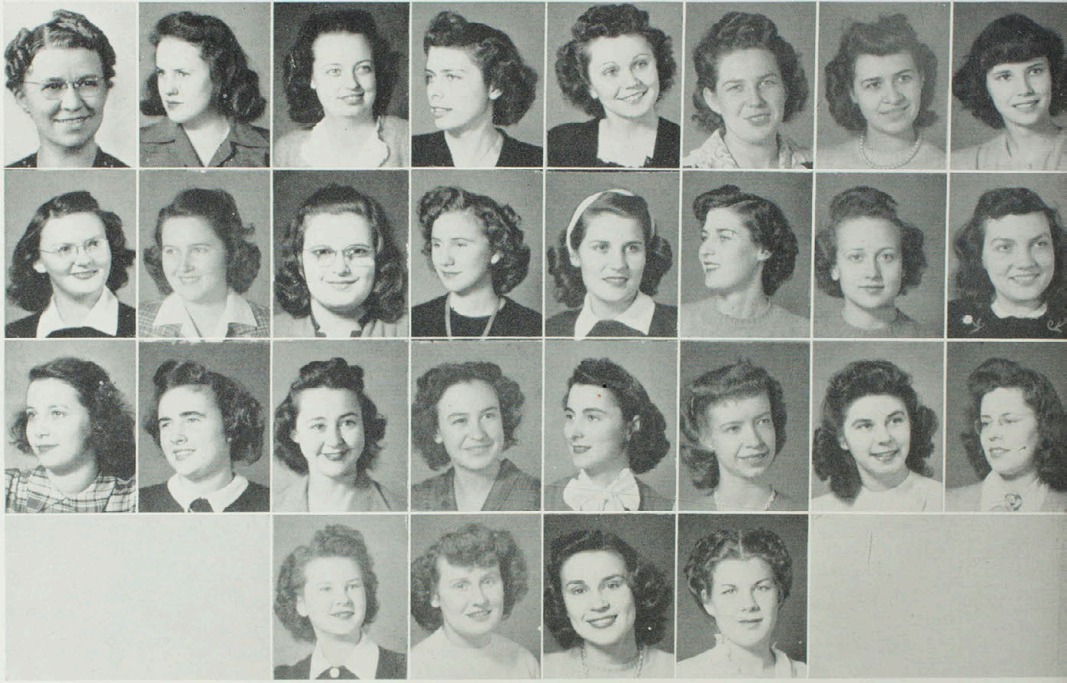

Rush week, pledge week, hell week, dues week,—queens, kings, (and jokers) elections, spats, make-ups, carnivals, play nights, special T-room meetings—these all keep our organizations humming like a disturbed hive.

The Alpha Sigs took a tip from the trend of "Things in General" this year, and got "back on the beam." Oh, what a light that "beam" gave, too—and we don't just mean the flashy red one on our house at 606 S. Franklin!

We positively glowed during rush season—gay costumes at our Gypsy Caravan (3), and snitzy Carousel at Mrs. Myers' home (6). The result! fifteen bright new Alphas!

We celebrated the return of MEN (Mmmm! MEN!!) to the campus by holding our traditional Valentine Dance. We celebrated Christmas traditionally, too, around Miss Zoller's fireplace (1).

And we might add that camera fiends were the Order of the Day (2) even before we began trying to get just ONE GOOD "Echo" shot; and we got our Education the Hard Way in gab sessions downstairs (4)—and upstairs (5)—we "dreamed!" The best dream we had was that our candidate, Noemy Gomez, would be Carnival Queen. And we told it before breakfast, and what do you think—she WAS!

Off to another wonderful start this year by being the proud possessors of the Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup! Then rushing!—rushing!—rushing! A super-duper progressive Pirate party with cut-throats, daggers, and bandanas and finally a treasure at Underhill's farm—a dream of a dance that simply "rhapsodized" Rhapsody in Blue—corsages for everyone—Kirk auditorium practically unrecognizable—Result—nineteen new pledges!!! and Sigma Sigma Sigma TOPS in sorority membership!

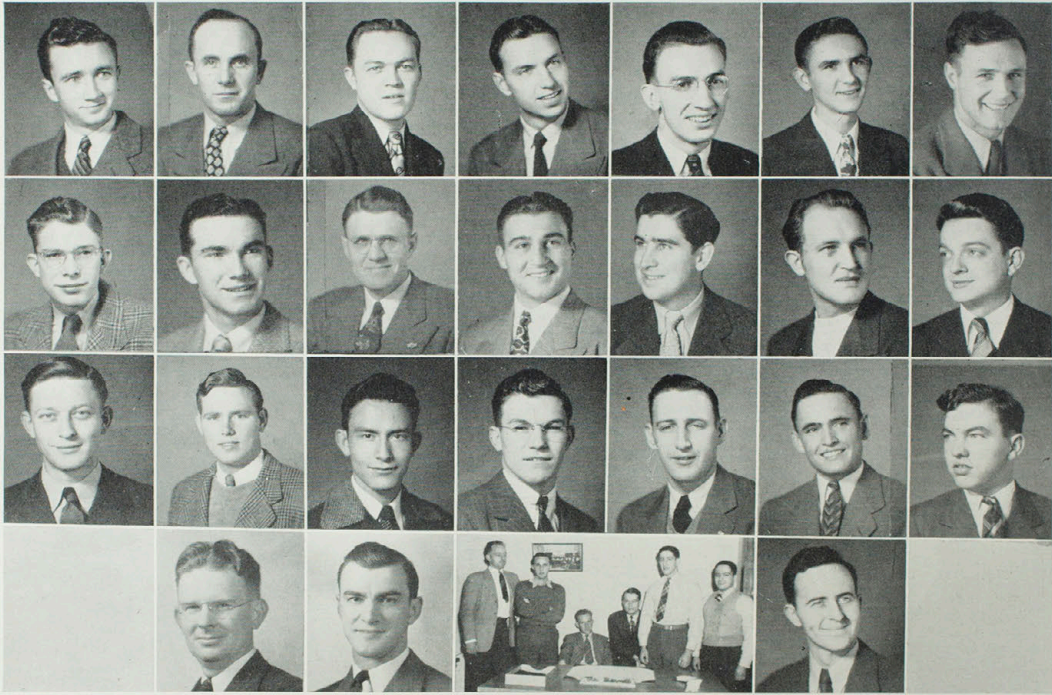

To top off the football season—a real football banquet, complete with footballs and everything.

Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for our "adopted" families. Christmas party . . . exchange of gifts . . . caroling . . . a rummage sale with the most surprising results . . . Tri Sigma-Sig Tau "saloon" at the all-school carnival in February complete with handle-bar moustaches, brass rail, can can dances, and singing waiters. A gen-u-ine "Tacky Dance" with corsages and escorts for the "men-folk."

Another wonderfully successful year for Sigma Sigma Sigma.

This is one year we'll remember for a long, long, time. Who could forget: Our welcome returnees? Looney in an apron and pie plates? Lagomarsino and Rinehart in the same? The winter field trip night which raised a little, as well as climaxing hell week? Mr. Rothschild's chili supper at the Sojourners? The Apache Dance? Intramural games? Inter-frat rivalries and the spring elections?

A. C. E.

The Association for Childhood Education has as its initial purpose the raising of the standards of professional training of teachers, but it is social as well as professional in nature.

Highlights of the year: The November dinner for our graduating seniors, Ruby Taylor and Lois Bentley; Christmas tea at Miss Whitson's; interesting speakers at the regular meetings.

ART CLUB

Several new members were welcomed this year—among them MEN . . . our regular weekly meetings with art programs and refreshments were continued . . . the sparkling decorations at the Christmas Tea were our contribution . . . all enjoyed the lovely discussion by Miss Lois Buhl at her home about her colonial and early American furniture and beautiful dishes—also the party at the Underhill home.

AEOLIAN CLUB

The Aeolian Club is an organiza-tion for students interested in music. Its purpose is to promote interest and appreciation of music as well as to cre-ate a fellowship among music stu-dents. A group of varied programs is given by the music faculty and mem-bers. Socials are held each year which include dancing, games, musical quizzes, and refreshments.

ELLEN H. RICHARDS CLUB

Members of Ellen H. Richards Club are girls majoring or minoring in home economics. This year there were about thirty members. Social activi-ties included a wiener roast and a Hal-loween party at the Home Manage-ment house. The club served dinner for the visiting home economics teach-ers at the fall teachers meeting. Later the girls served a farewell dinner for Mr. Cornwell, given by members of the Language and Literature department.

Miss Llori MaGee and Mrs. Lena Buckingham are the sponsors.

ALPHA PHI SIGMA

Alpha Phi Sigma is an honorary service organization open to students who were valedictorian or salutatorian of their high school graduating classes or have maintained a high scholastic average in college.

Service gestures for the year were the weekly mailing of the Index, taking charge of information about campus organizations for the college bulletin, and contributing to the national organization of the idea of a contest for the writing of an Alpha Phi Sigma song.

We played too—a wiener roast at Brashear park . . . pre-initiation parties at the beginning of each quarter . . . a mock operation stunt at the carnival . . . and, yes, to be sure our spring banquet—highlight of the year.

Members are as follows:

Margaret Armstrong, Barbara Brubaker, Marie Cowell, Frances Davis, secretary; Beulah Evilizer, Bernadean Fleshman, Mabel Freese, Mildred Gonnerman, Vaughnie Guffey, Mrs. Janet Harvey, president; Martha Lou Holbert, vice-president; Mrs. Helen Huff, Martha Jones, Margie Kaufman, Dorothy Klocke, Helen Lee, Viva Sue Lett, treasurer; Mary Lierly, Frances Long, Carolyn Magruder, Betty Nelson, Maribel Norris, Reva Payne, Mary Prather, Billy Richardson, Mr. Noah Richardson, sponsor; Mary Roberts, Mary Rouner, corresponding secretary; Mary Frances Ruhwedel, Betty Slaughter, Clara Smith, Joyce Smith, Helen Sullivan, Elsie Sutton, Hal Taylor, Calvin Theiss, Louise Tipton, Jolene Underhill, Elsa Webbink, Kathleen Willoughby, Nancy Yager

AGRICULTURE CLUB

"It is good to be back" and with the return of manpower the "Agriculture Club" and the good "Old Ag. Spirit" are back on the campus. In the spring of 1943, Bryan Hoerrmann Jr., secretary-treasurer told the bank to guard the club funds and the sponsor to keep the records, and the men all bade farewell till after the duration.

We will miss "Junior" and several older members who made the supreme sacrifice in a war to end wars. Other members write from the South Pacific that they hope to get back where they left off.

The Club has a two-fold purpose: to promote social and educational programs. Regular meetings are held bi-monthly with "eats", when persons in specialized fields of agriculture are invited as speakers.

Out door picnics, "Barnwarmin's" and Intra-mural tournaments are tops with the agriculture boys. Helping with farm banquets, county fairs, running off District contests for high school agriculture students and Future Farmers of America chapters have long been on the regular calendar of the organization.

Members are as follows:

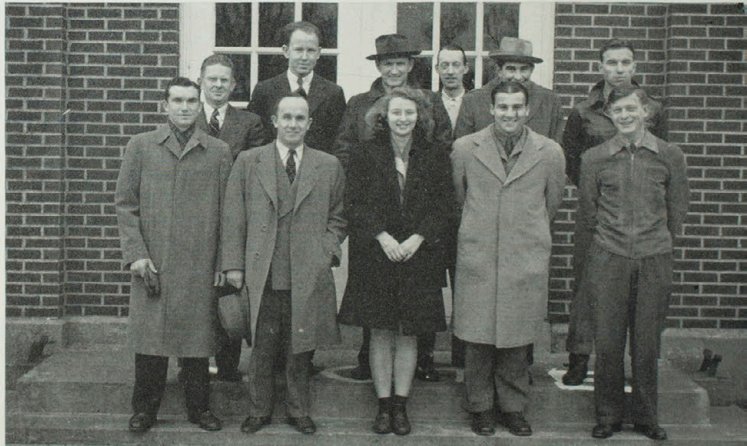

Leonard Moritz, president; Edgar H. Mabry, vice-president; Spencer Britton, secretary-treasurer; Robert Love, sergeant at arms; Harl Payne, Harold Barnett, Carroll Watt, Harold Taylor, Erwin Walker, Farrell Crist, Bobby Elsea, Glen Allen, Corwin Bowen, Mary Shuey, Wilfred Bryan, Henry Eitel, Norvell C. IND. ARTS - PRE-OSTEOPATHS

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club reorganized in the winter quarter for the first time since the war began. The aims of the club are to promote the social and professional standing of persons majoring or minoring in industrial arts. The club is open to students having ten hours of industrial arts.

Members of the club are: Wilfred Byram, president; Walter Beard, vice-president; Jolene Underhill, secretary; James Looney, treasurer; Bob Slaughter, sergeant-at-arms; Lloyd Bruce, Lewis Coghill, Gus Lagomarsino, Herbert Miles, Bill Minor, Bob Price, Jim Salter, Fred Peterson

Vincent Strangio, president; Jack Rollins, vice-president; Myrna Ship-ton, secretary; Jean Chappee, treasurer; Mrs. Vivian Kline, sponsor

PRE-OSTEOPATHIC CLUB

The Pre-Osteopathic Club is an organization for those students interested in Osteopathy.

The group enjoyed an Italian spaghetti supper with Mrs. Kline as hostess, with dancing after the supper. Another dance was held later in the year in the Presbyterian Church basement.

The programs of the year have included a general discussion of Osteopathy with Dr. C. K. Smith and Dr. George Laughlin as guest speakers, a visit to the dissection room at K.C.O.S. where Dr. Snyder explained various procedures, and a visit to the laboratory at K.C.O.S. where Dr. Denslow talked with the students.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

A school with more than one frat needs an impartial judge to keep peace between the rivals and an equal number of men from each group to see that peace is kept in their favor.

Activities are co-ordinated by this governing body to fit into the school program. This year's main event was the joint spring banquet where the scholarship cup was presented for the first time.

PANHELLENIC

Pan-Hellenic, the governing body of all sorority functions, is composed of three representatives from each sorority. The organization sponsors a spring dance and banquet at which time the scholarship cup is given to the sorority having the highest average during the year.

ROMANCE LANGUAGE CLUB

Members of the Romance Language Club are persons interested in studying, in a social way, the Romance languages and cultures. The club is divided in two sections, French and Spanish. The monthly programs are given alternately by the two sections. A New Year's party was given at Miss Wade's home.

C. Y. F.

The Christian Church is proud of the group of students enrolled in its College Class. Faithful attendance at Sunday services and loyalty to the choir contribute much to the life of the church. Evening meetings led by inspirational speakers are the means of acquainting students with townspeople and members of the church. The Fellowship aims to train these young people to take their proper place in home, church, and community life.

Pi Omega Pi - Modern Literature

PI OMEGA PI

Alpha Chapter of Pi Omega Pi swung into the year with a small membership. We lost three members in the fall quarter through graduation but have also gained six members this year.

We have had two initiations this year. The informal part afforded much entertainment. The social activity for the year was a chili supper in the fall.

MODERN LITERATURE

The bi-monthly meetings of Modern Literature club were bright spots on our school calendar, with modern book reviews, poetry reading, quizzes, contests, games, and refreshments (sometimes). A covered dish luncheon during the fall quarter was fun and delicious too.

A larger membership with MEN is our hope for next year.

The oldest organization on the campus gained renewed strength and vigor with the largest membership in years, including six veterans.

The annual spring banquet was the highlight of our year. Each regular meeting was made interesting and educational with talks on subjects of historical nature by returned service men and faculty members.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Back Row: John Fox, Carolyn Magruder, Jo Anne Novinger, Leonard Moritz

The Baptist Student Union is the connecting link between the home church and the student, the school church and the student, and both home and school church during the four years of college life.

The purpose of the organization is to maintain contact with the 140,000 Baptist college men and women throughout the Convention.

The local chapter this year sponsored the annual student reception in September, and other social events during that quarter. A Pioneer party highlighted the winter activities and the Annual spring banquet and installation of officers in late April climaxed a successful year's work. A monthly news-sheet, "The B.S.U. Newsette", kept students informed of the program of activities and carried items of off-campus interests. Our president, Sunday School representative, Y. W. A. representative, and assistant vice-president attended the annual state convention held on the campus of Cape Girardeau Teachers College.

Officers during the 1945-46 school year are: Mildred Akers, president; Margaret Whittom, first vice-president; Leonard Moritz, assistant first vice-president; Virginia Ward, third vice-president; Doris Biggs, secretary; Carolyn Magruder, treasurer; Loris Johnson, Sunday School representative; Joan Novinger, Y.W.A. representative; Helen Rieger, Training Union representative; John C. Fox, reporter. Mrs. Walter H. Ryle concluded another year of service to this group as sponsor.

The largest and one of the most active organizations on the campus is the newly organized Veterans Club with approximately 200 members.

In January 1946 the veterans organized their club, elected their officers, wrote up their constitution and started their activities.

The purpose of the organization is to promote better understanding between the returned men and their school.

Faculty members who are veterans from World War I are members of the club in advisory positions.

One of the early activities of the club was the making of a survey of the college neighborhood in an effort to find suitable homes for the veterans and their families.

INDEX

If a certain few people came through 1945 with more streamlined minds and also figures, it may be because they were on the Index staff. Saying the right thing in fifty words or writing a headline that says what it should in 18 units makes for more concise wording, and those weekly issues and Carnival Queen Extras weren't done by gremlins. An about the figures! We didn't gain weight keeping the sidewalks warm between the newswriting room and the Graphic office or while dashing around after those faculty members from whom we were to get stories.

But we did get the stories, we did write the leads, we did make the headlines, and we even scooped the town paper occasionally.

THE ECHO

If at first they don't have their pictures taken, make another announcement. It worked and cooperation was splendid. So was that Carnival from which the Student Council donated money to make the Echo possible.

The four staff members, appointed by the Echo board, were Leota Harrison, editor-in-chief; Loris Johnson, business manager; Ferne Woods, assistant editor; and Mary Lierly, assistant business manager. For the first time a class was offered in Echo publication and the members were John Goeke, Martha Lou Holbert, Mary Frances Ruhwedel, Martha Jones, and the photographers—James Shuey, John Fox, George Crutchfield, and Gordon Collett.

So with the combined efforts of Miss Agnes Slemmons—our adviser, the photographers, the ad men and the class we give you your 1946 Echo.

From world battles to Conference battles came the 1946 Bulldogs, after a lapse of four years.

Fifteen rahs for the team, team, team. They're sure a fine beginning. Let's give fifteen more. LOUDER, this time!

Look at that referee. Wonder which team's paying his fee. He did the same thing last year. Hey! Oh well, that's one on us he didn't call—might not be so bad after all.

Intramurals start tonight—you goin'? See ya at 7:30. The Vets play the Hot Shots. Can't miss that. Basketball's a better game than football any day. Aw—wher'd you get that idea? You crazy?

Where you headed after the game? Room for two more? Let's get home early tonight, these close games wear me out.

Are ya makin' any bets on who wins the M.I.A.A. title this time? The Bulldogs ought to give them a run for their money next fall. We're only graduating one varsity man.

See ya tomorrow, gotta chase off for a K-Club meeting.

THE FOOTBALL STORY

In 1945 football was again inaugurated in the Teachers College after a lapse of three years. Vincent Geringer was given the job of leading the grid aspirants through a tough schedule and Eldon Sterne served as assistant coach.

Forty men answered the call to moleskins, but practically all were subject to military call and when the season began, the squad had shrunk to twenty-two men.

In the first game of the season, the Bulldogs held the favorite Missouri "B" team to a 0 to 0 tie.

The Bulldogs then moved on to St. Louis to engage the Billikens, Sept. 28. The Bills, with 66 substitutes to call upon, shellacked the Dogs by a score of 96 to 6.

Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, came down to test the Bulldogs in the next game and were swamped 27 to 0.

Coach Geringer's charges then went to Western Kentucky and were beaten by a superior Murray squad by a score of 51 to 7.

In the next game the Bulldogs journeyed to Rolla and after scoring 6 points in the first quarter, the Bulldogs were shoved everywhere except over the goal line and emerged a 6 to 0 winner.

The Dogs took a long trip to Eastern Kentucky and after holding on even terms for the first quarter, the Bulldogs succumbed 54 to 7 to end the season.

James Daugherty coached the Bulldogs in the last two games after Coach Geringer accepted a position with the University of Kansas.

Twenty-ones boys lettered and have received the "K" award for their services last fall. They are: Martin Canaday, c; Lewis Coghill, r.t.; Charlie Copwell, r.t.; Bob Ewing, f.b.; Charles Hallbrook, r.e.; Harry Hall, r.e.; Harold Haney, r.g.; Bill Kelsay, f.b.; John Mangiaracina, q.b. ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

Another group of unsung, unnoticed workers—the five members of the Athletic Committee. These men are charged with the responsibility of planning and executing the college's athletic program from start to finish.

These men schedule all games, direct all publicity for the teams, delegate authority to the coaches, and have charge of paying all bills. Some of the men made trips with the Bulldogs to see the St. Louis and Kentucky football games. The Homecoming responsibilities are being taken care of for next year under the direction of this committee and other interested groups.

The college athletic program is a tribute to the efforts of this group of five men who untiringly promote and plan, so that Kirksville Bulldogs may play.

Basketball coaches: Delbert Maddox and James Daugherty

THE BASKETBALL STORY

Basketball returned to the Teachers College after a lapse of three years. With play in the M.I.A.A. conference starting again, the Bulldogs put a fighting quintet on the floor. Whalen and Bryan, two returning lettermen, formed the nucleus of the team, and for the most part, the remainder of the squad were freshmen.

The athletic future of the Teachers College looks bright, as most of the boys from this year's promising team will return for next season.

Coaches Jim Daugherty and Delbert Maddox deserve a lot of credit for their splendid work with the boys this year.

As an added attraction to the season, five intra-mural basketball teams put up a hot race for the intra-mural championship. The teams were: the veterans, Sig-Tau fraternity, Phi-Sig fraternity, the Little Theater team, and the Hot Shots.

Activities, programs, clubs, queens and other items which wouldn't work into any other section pay for their perversity by being placed in this conglomeration of details. This might be more properly termed the H-A-S-H pages. (H-urry A-nd S-tick H-ere).

An Echo queen with eight attendants, a Carnival queen with nine attendants represent a cross (not a state of mind) section of the beautiful co-eds in Kirksville.

The oh's and ah's of the first post-war holiday dance that had enough live men to go around are pictured somewhere in the succeeding pages along with the ten fellows and girls who made this year's edition of the "owl book"—(Who's Who).

The three neighbors from Norway and Costa Rica add grace and charm to an entire page, so hurry, turn the page, and view the

Dear Miss Harrison:

After mature deliberation we have selected Mildred Akers for your Queen. She's a leading lady type, and should reign with proper regal dignity.

Hope nobody gets hurt. It's difficult judging on one print and guessing about profile, teeth, figure, etc.

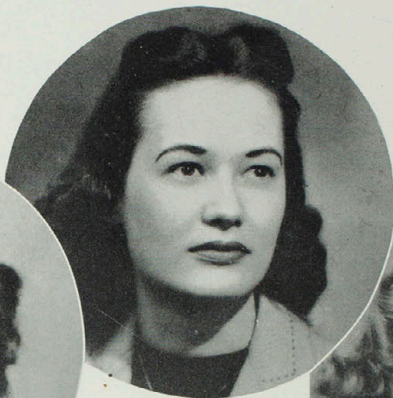

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely,

CHRISTMAS

December 21
(A.M.—early)

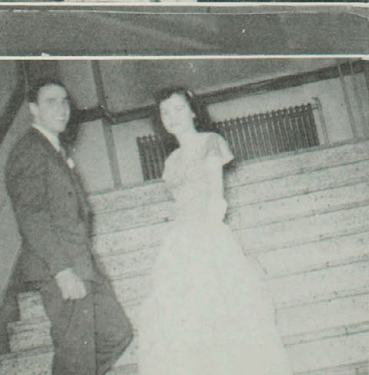

Dear Joe,

Gee, whatta night! Best time I've had since they issued us all that free beer on Iwo, V-J Day—tonight was our annual CHRISTMAS DANCE!

Wore my first bow tie since I joined the army—thought I'd never get the darn thing tied! Then I picked up Anne—she's my latest, strictly hubba-hubba — and we went over to the Event.

Kirk Auditorium—big Christmas tree, soft red lights (mmm!) lots of green stuff, silver bells—the floor was packed and the band really carved!

We danced till we were glad to sit one out, and then we danced some more. Lots of kids you wouldn't know, but some of our old gang is still here.

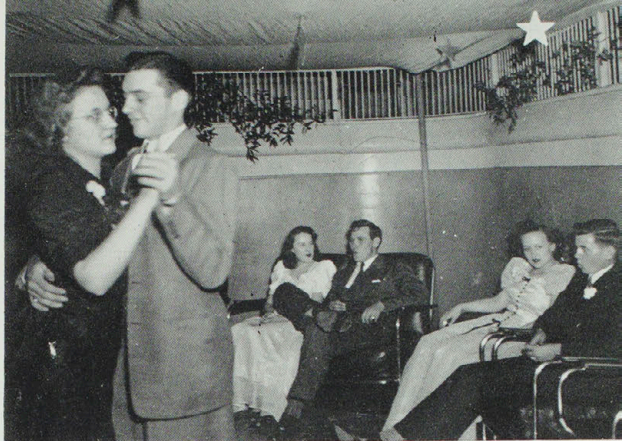

DANCE

At intermission everyone left to quench their thirst—coffee at Donut land, cokes at the Campus Club, and—

Well, anyway, after intermission we whizzed back. I hadn't been to a dance since I got my discharge, so maybe that's why I had so much fun. But everyone else did, too. You should have heard the protesting groans when the band dreamed out "Star Dust" for the last dance. We started home, and then changed our minds, and went out and took over "Bill's" for awhile. And then we finally DID go home, and—uh—well, it sure was a swell dance!

Write, chum and when your ol' "ruptured duck" straggles in, see you back in K.S.T.C., too—we'll take in next year's dance together, huh?

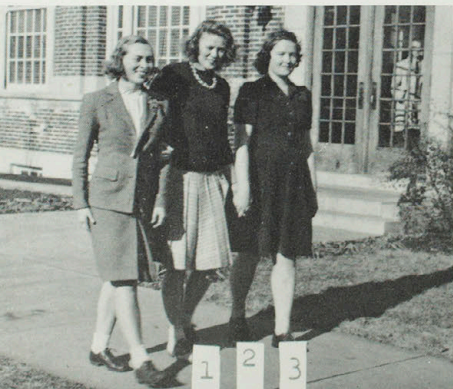

So long,
BUD

WHO'S WHO

"Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges" this year includes ten students from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College. These students have been chosen from 569 colleges and universities because of their character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities and their possibility of future usefulness to business and society.

These students are (1) Janet Harvey, (2) Marian Lee Anderson, (3) Carolyn Magruder, (4) Walter Beard, (5) Lois Bentley, (6) Mary Eiffert, (7) Betty Drakes, (8) John Fox, (9) Bernece Schott, (10) Doris Jean Reid.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Grace, wit, subtle humor, and vivacious charm have been on the campus in added measure this year because of the presence of Senoritas Noemy Gomez and Nidia Saenz. These two young ladies from Costa Rica flew to this country in early September from San Jose, their capital city, to New Orleans, Louisiana, and arrived at our campus via train and bus from there.

Nidia and Noemy have progressed rapidly from milk-fed girls (because they could say nothing more in English) to typical, fun-loving, adventurous co-eds. Nidia, a social science major, plans to return to her native country as a social worker upon the completion of her degree. Noemy expects to make the customary use of her home economics training when she leaves Missouri.

Miss Ronnaug Halstensen, having completed her trip to this country by ship from Molde, Norway, arrived in New York City far enough in advance of the winter enrollment date to spend one dazzling week in that city of delights. Ronnaug is majoring in elementary education and spends a great deal of her time studying the American educational system. A special report she is preparing will be studied by educational leaders in her land. Her secondary interest is music.

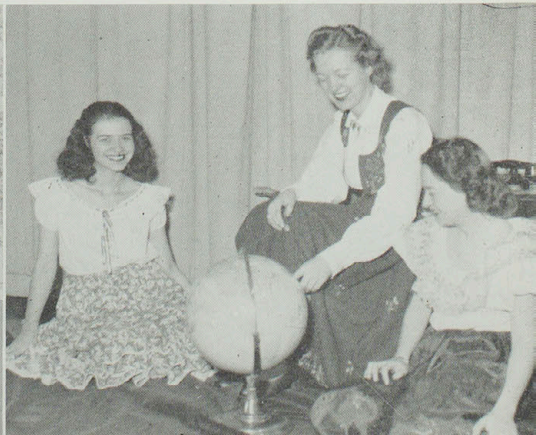

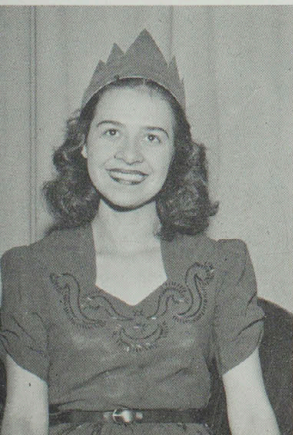

All three of these young women were directed to this college by the National Institute of Education. Kirksville is one of the approved schools for foreign students studying in America.
